2.2 Study Sections

- → Computer Science (INF): 18 CP
 - Focus on research into the transformation processes in organizations caused by digitization
 - Mandatory module: "IT Management", which deals with the strategic and operational processes of IT service management and develops models for the management of software projects based on research results
 - Large selection of computer science courses
 - offered by lecturers from Faculty 03 (Mathematics & Computer Science)
 - three modules including topics on IT Management, and specific Computer Science courses for MIS
 - Module responsibility: Professors Bormann & Breiter

MIS-INF-1

IT-Management and Data Application

MIS-INF-2

Computer Science for Management Information Systems

Special Topics in Computer Science for Management Information Systems

2.3 Project

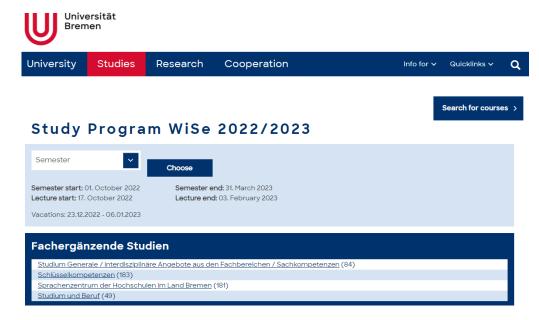

- → With 24 CP, this module takes up almost the entire workload of the third semester
- → Students apply the fundamentals they have learned and deepen their specialist knowledge
- → topics of projects are usually roughly specified; the exact form and the methods used are then agreed upon in a dialog between students and lecturers
- → Three options:
 - One 24 CP project
 - Two 12 CP projects
 - One 12 CP project plus two 6 CP courses with related topics
- → Module responsibility: Professors Bormann & Poddig
- → Please note: if you wish to study abroad, the 3rd semester fits best
