STUDENTS' VOICE

Kuhn Colin

"Modern and Contemporary History of Japan" was an excellent ESOP course I took. I learned about Japanese history, the importance of its geographical location, and Japan in the global spotlight. Through globalization and trade, Japan has managed to overcome many challenges through the importation of new ideas, goods, and art.

Koblizek Elena

Studying at Hosei University is a great opportunity to learn about interesting topics like "Japanese Rural Society" (SCOPE). This lecture provides a wide range of information, since we learn about historical development of agriculture in Japan. During class, I really enjoy discussing rural environmental problems with Japanese as well as international students.

Former Student Impressions

Pham Jesse

(English course assistant at Japanese high school)

ESOP offers courses for both Japanese students and foreign students. Besides making amazing friendships with Hosei Students, this gives you a chance to compare cultures through discussion and get the perspective of your Japanese peers on societal issues or cultural matters. If you wish to have a career in Japan, this is important because working in Japan is a little different from being an Exchange Student. Because of ESOP I had connections in Japan and knew what to expect before I came to work here. It not only helped in job searching but also made for a smooth experience.

Khalmirzaeva Saida

(ESOP instructor in Hosei University)

The year I spent at ESOP (2004) was one of the happiest times in my life. I was given a chance to learn about Japanese culture and society through the courses offered at the program and experience the "real" Japan through outdoor activities. While enrolled in the program, I made a lot of friends from many different countries. They have become my "bridge" to the world and my new family. I went back to Uzbekistan determined to return to Hosei one day and hopefully in the near future.

In 2016 I received my PhD in Literature from Hosei University, and at the moment I teach courses on Japanese literature at Hosei University (ESOP) and Aoyama Gakuin University. I am honored to have started my teaching career at ESOP and hope my work as a researcher and educator will inspire other students in our growing international community.

Tokyo Big6 Baseball league

Exchange students can watch spring and fall university-league baseball games together with Hosei University students.

Tea ceremony experience

Under the guidance of the Hosei Tea Ceremony Club, exchange students can experience hands-on preparation and tasting of Japanese green tea.

G-Lounge and J-Lounge

Each Lounge provides place for the students who wish to learn about the different culture and foreign language. Exchange students have many chance to make Japanese friends and communicate with them.

English Play Day

This is an international exchange event for children between the ages of 4 and 8 in the spring and fall semesters which provides a very good experience for student who likes kids or who is aiming teacher in the future.

Traditional musical instrument experience

Under the guidance of the Hosei Japanese traditional instrument Club, students can experience the koto, shakuhachi, shamisen and other traditional Japanese musical instruments.

Culture exchange with High School students

Exchange students have the opportunity to experience the cultural exchange with high school students who have visited Hosei University from various regions and also chance to visit their school directly.

Part time job for Exhibition

Exchange students can have the opportunity to explain Japanese traditional culture to foreigners through a short-term part-time job at a big exhibition in Japan. It also helps to understand Japanese traditional culture.

Club activity and university festival

Hosei University has a variety of club activities and supports international students who want to join the clubs. Many clubs take part in the university festival and international students also participate and enjoy them together.
